APRIL 1-30

Of All Possible Futures

The theme of this year's Winnipeg Design Festival is "Of All Possible Futures". Programming is focused on buildings and sites in the downtown core that have struggled, especially during the pandemic. We consider past and present states as the foundation for future ideation, believing that innovative and progressive design will change our communities for the better.

The "Of All Possible Futures" exhibit curated by Joe Kaltornyk of RAW: Gallery and RAW: Almond, presents an assemblage of contemporary Winnipeg artists, designers, poets, filmmakers, and musicians who dream of futures using the remnants of the day. Each team of creatives uses an existing downtown Winnipeg building as a launching pad – buildings that have all been wary of the wrecking ball – all with storied pasts and uncertain futures.
